

RATS AND MICE LOVE FRESH BAIT.

J.T. EATON SELLS FRESH, CLEAN, APPETIZING BAITS, AT AN AFFORDABLE PRICE.

For Best Results:

Store your bait away from other pesticides and chemical odors. Baits can absorb odors from other products. Wear waterproof gloves when handling bait because odors and smells, that we carry on our hands and clothing, can be easily transferred to bait, making it less likely to be consumed.

Rats usually travel about 50 to 200 feet for food and water. Mice travel about 30 feet per night. Place tamper-resistant bait stations for rats 30 to 50 feet apart or every 10 to 20 feet or mice. Place your stations along the walls.

J.T. Eaton & Co., Inc. has two types of bait to kill rats and mice. First generation anticoagulants - Chlorophacinone, used in our A-C FORMULA 90™ bait, Diphacinone, used in our wax BAIT BLOCKS®. Bromethalin, a single feed - used in our TOP GUN™ baits.

Both products kill rodents effectively. When rotating baits, you should be aware that rats are shy of new objects and will try and avoid these products or areas for days or weeks.
